Art roundabout kicks off summertime events and exhibits

On June 13, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library and the Georgetown Cultural Arts Commission will kick off their summertime events and exhibits season with the Art Roundabout, an annual celebration of the visual arts and culture. The Art Roundabout will feature outdoor art installations, music, poetry, and other events throughout the summer. The events will take place on the first Friday of every month from June to August, with additional events on weekends throughout the summer. The opening event will take place at the Georgetown Public Library, and the closing event will be held at the Wilco Way Creative Studios.

Summer art exhibits

On July 21-August 22, the Georgetown Public Library will host the 2022 Texas Society of Sculptors Show, an exhibition of works by local and regional sculptors. The exhibition will feature a variety of mediums, including bronze, clay, and wood, and will be open to the public.

On August 6, the Georgetown Public Library will host the People’s Choice Art Award, an exhibition of works by local and regional artists. The exhibition will feature a variety of mediums, including paintings, sculptures, and mixed media, and will be open to the public.

On August 10, the Georgetown Public Library will host the People’s Choice Art Award, an exhibition of works by local and regional artists. The exhibition will feature a variety of mediums, including paintings, sculptures, and mixed media, and will be open to the public.

Summer events

On June 13, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host an opening reception for the 2022 Texas Society of Sculptors Show, an exhibition of works by local and regional sculptors. The exhibition will feature a variety of mediums, including bronze, clay, and wood, and will be open to the public.

On August 6, the Georgetown Public Library will host the People’s Choice Art Award, an exhibition of works by local and regional artists. The exhibition will feature a variety of mediums, including paintings, sculptures, and mixed media, and will be open to the public.

On August 10, the Georgetown Public Library will host the People’s Choice Art Award, an exhibition of works by local and regional artists. The exhibition will feature a variety of mediums, including paintings, sculptures, and mixed media, and will be open to the public.

CANNING WORKSHOP

Want to learn about canning so you can preserve the wonderful products from your local farmers market? This year’s chance to learn is simple. We’re open. We’re offering a workshop on weekends throughout the summer. The cost is $5 per person, and all ages are welcome to participate.

On June 25, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host a canning workshop, where participants will learn how to prepare and preserve a variety of fruits and vegetables using traditional methods. The workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on activities, and participants will receive a copy of the workshop guide and a canning kit.

On July 2, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another canning workshop, where participants will learn how to prepare and preserve a variety of fruits and vegetables using traditional methods. The workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on activities, and participants will receive a copy of the workshop guide and a canning kit.

On July 9, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another canning workshop, where participants will learn how to prepare and preserve a variety of fruits and vegetables using traditional methods. The workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on activities, and participants will receive a copy of the workshop guide and a canning kit.

On July 16, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another canning workshop, where participants will learn how to prepare and preserve a variety of fruits and vegetables using traditional methods. The workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on activities, and participants will receive a copy of the workshop guide and a canning kit.

On July 23, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another canning workshop, where participants will learn how to prepare and preserve a variety of fruits and vegetables using traditional methods. The workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on activities, and participants will receive a copy of the workshop guide and a canning kit.

On July 30, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another canning workshop, where participants will learn how to prepare and preserve a variety of fruits and vegetables using traditional methods. The workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on activities, and participants will receive a copy of the workshop guide and a canning kit.

On August 6, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another canning workshop, where participants will learn how to prepare and preserve a variety of fruits and vegetables using traditional methods. The workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on activities, and participants will receive a copy of the workshop guide and a canning kit.

On August 13, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another canning workshop, where participants will learn how to prepare and preserve a variety of fruits and vegetables using traditional methods. The workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on activities, and participants will receive a copy of the workshop guide and a canning kit.

On August 20, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another canning workshop, where participants will learn how to prepare and preserve a variety of fruits and vegetables using traditional methods. The workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on activities, and participants will receive a copy of the workshop guide and a canning kit.

On August 27, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another canning workshop, where participants will learn how to prepare and preserve a variety of fruits and vegetables using traditional methods. The workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on activities, and participants will receive a copy of the workshop guide and a canning kit.

Summit on global wildlife protection

On September 6, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host a summit on global wildlife protection, where participants will learn about the latest efforts to protect and conserve endangered species and their habitats. The summit will feature presentations by experts in the field, as well as interactive workshops and activities for all ages.

On September 13, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another summit on global wildlife protection, where participants will learn about the latest efforts to protect and conserve endangered species and their habitats. The summit will feature presentations by experts in the field, as well as interactive workshops and activities for all ages.

On September 20, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another summit on global wildlife protection, where participants will learn about the latest efforts to protect and conserve endangered species and their habitats. The summit will feature presentations by experts in the field, as well as interactive workshops and activities for all ages.

On September 27, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another summit on global wildlife protection, where participants will learn about the latest efforts to protect and conserve endangered species and their habitats. The summit will feature presentations by experts in the field, as well as interactive workshops and activities for all ages.

On October 4, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another summit on global wildlife protection, where participants will learn about the latest efforts to protect and conserve endangered species and their habitats. The summit will feature presentations by experts in the field, as well as interactive workshops and activities for all ages.

On October 11, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another summit on global wildlife protection, where participants will learn about the latest efforts to protect and conserve endangered species and their habitats. The summit will feature presentations by experts in the field, as well as interactive workshops and activities for all ages.

On October 18, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another summit on global wildlife protection, where participants will learn about the latest efforts to protect and conserve endangered species and their habitats. The summit will feature presentations by experts in the field, as well as interactive workshops and activities for all ages.

On October 25, 2022, the Georgetown Public Library will host another summit on global wildlife protection, where participants will learn about the latest efforts to protect and conserve endangered species and their habitats. The summit will feature presentations by experts in the field, as well as interactive workshops and activities for all ages.