I’ve decided I have choice paralysis brought on by option overload. Symptoms of overwhelming confusion include a low grocery store when househun-cling and a variety of too many options.

Bread is made from flour, water, salt, sugar and yeast, but there are endless variations of bread. You can try a million different combinations of flour, temperature, and techniques. Nothing beats a loaf of bread.

“...for many years. He finds humor in the challenge.”

Ed Miller, a retired architect, defines

Sheltering In Place

August 17, 2020

Ed & Grace

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.

Ed: … What’s that noise?

Grace: Oh, good. I’ll go put on your mask. Ed: Don’t hurt the fly.

Grace: Put on your mask.